What a hugely successful and inspiring week in Sunnybrow. Officially, it is National Careers week, but at Sunnybrow we have decided to extend it until the end of term by inviting in some fabulous role-models to share their career stories.

We kick-started the week with a visit from Mrs Barron, who is a qualified nurse. She talked to the children about why we might visit hospitals, discussed different medicines and then showed us the importance of washing our hands by using an ultraviolet light to show us the germs on our hands before and after washing. The children found it really interesting! On Tuesday, Mr Vincent led an assembly sharing his journey into teaching. Our children have a lot of respect for Mr Vincent, and really enjoyed hearing about the different jobs he had before deciding to qualify as a teacher.

On Wednesday, we welcomed Mrs Featherstone's daughter Ellie. Ellie is a young woman with so much ambition and drive! She is a BMX rider and has competed at an incredibly high level. She has travelled the world from a young age and even moved abroad to further develop her skills. Now, she has set up her own company and coaches children too. Our children loved listening to Ellie talk and watch her do some skills on her bike!

This afternoon, Ms Midgely and Joe our Sports Coach will be talking to the children about their careers and we have a police dog handler to come in next week. More updates to follow!

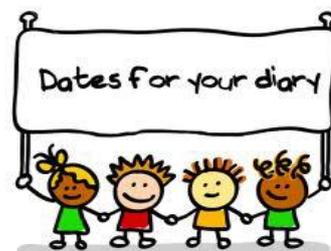

A huge thank you to our special visitors for giving up their time to come in and inspire our amazing children!

importance of dreaming big. Children completed activities related to their ambitions and dreams, linking it to National Careers week too. Also throughout the day, the bell rang and everyone had to stop, drop everything and read. There was also a quiz where the children had to guess the member of staff and their favourite book. What a lovely day celebrating our love for books!

Online Safety:

As infants, we all rely completely on adults to help us resolve situations that are causing us to become upset or stressed. This is known as co-regulation. The next phase, once autonomy has begun to develop, is called self-regulation: this is when children start to become capable of exercising more control over their impulses and behaviour, and managing their own emotions.

- If a child is in immediate danger or at risk of immediate harm, you should contact the Police on 999.
- If you are concerned about a child you should share your concern with the First Contact Team on 03000 267 979.
- You can also contact the NSPCC for advice on 0808 800 5000 or email help@NSPCC.org.uk
- If you have non-urgent information about the safety or welfare of a child to share with the safeguarding team at Sunbrow Primary School please contact Mrs Sim on 01388 746 413 or sunnybrow@durhamlearning.net

This vital developmental milestone, however, isn't reached spontaneously. Learning to self-regulate requires sensitive guidance from trusted adults – simply talking with children about their thoughts and feelings, for instance, can ease the route to self-regulation. This week's National Online Safety guide has some expert tips for supporting children to reach this goal.
