And finally the last day of term is here! What a fabulous term it has been too. So many memories have been made, it is impossible to pick out my favourite, but some that stick out have been our wreath making parent event, Equali-tea party, Paul Cookson author visit, our two nativities and the Great Sunnybrow Debate!

It was great to end the year with our Christingle service. We are really proud of how much our children are growing in confidence and developing a presence on stage-this is not easy to do at any age, but especially for children so young! The Nativity performance of 'Is there a baby in there' was a real triumph, and it was lovely to see so many children do solos!

Our Key Stage 2 children have put their singing voices to excellent use to entertain some of the elderly residents of Sunnybrow and Willington over recent weeks. First, we had a trip to Willington Care village to sing for the residents there. The children were very kindly given sweet treats for their efforts and our Community Heroes handed over Christmas Care packages they had made for residents who won't have any visitors over Christmas. Then, Class 4 headed to Parkside to sing some carols to care home residents who were visiting for a festive afternoon. Everyone had a lovely time!
